There is no sign up and no watermark, and every design can also be colored online in your browser.

The fairy tale behind these pages

Cinderella is the kind girl of the classic fairy tale, told by Charles Perrault and the Brothers Grimm long before any film existed: the hearth she sweeps, the fairy godmother, the pumpkin that becomes a carriage, the royal ball and the glass slipper left on the palace steps at midnight. Every drawing here comes from that storybook world and is drawn in our own studio line style. You will not find scenes copied from any movie, only the tale as picture books have told it for three hundred years.

Coloring ideas for Cinderella's world

The pumpkin carriage is the showpiece, so give it a rich warm orange with golden swirls and deep green vines, rolling over gray cobblestones under an indigo sky full of yellow stars. The ball gown is your free choice: picture books have painted it rose, gold, lilac and mint, so pick your favorite pair of colors and keep the ruffles lighter than the bodice. For the hearth and attic scenes, warm browns and soft grays make the little doves and the candlelight stand out, and the glass slipper sparkles best left almost white with just a touch of pale blue. Markers need thicker paper (cardstock) so they do not bleed through; crayons and pencils are happy on plain printer paper.

The best page for every age

Toddlers should start with Easy Cinderella: extra thick lines, one big friendly figure and a single slipper, nothing fiddly. Kids from about four to eight usually go straight for the pumpkin carriage, the fairy godmother and the ballroom dance. Older kids and grown-ups tend to pick the patterned carriage, which colors like a mandala and can fill a whole quiet evening. Planning a fairy tale party? Print a stack of the slipper try-on page and let every guest color their own.

Frequently asked questions

Are these Cinderella pages free for schools?

Yes. Everything here is free for personal use and for classrooms, libraries and therapy practices. The details are in our licensing policy.

What paper size do the PDFs fit?

Every PDF is built for both US Letter and A4. Choose "fit to page" in your print dialog and you are set. There are more tips in our how-to-print guide.

Can we color Cinderella online without a printer?

Yes. Every design has a "Color online" button that opens it in our browser coloring studio. Paint with a mouse or a finger, undo anything you like, and download the finished picture as a PDF or a PNG.

Who draws these pages?

We do. Every design is original artwork in our house line style, drawn from the fairy tale itself rather than from anyone else's pictures. If you like this collection, the rest of our fantasy coloring pages are drawn the same way.

More fairy tale coloring

If carriages and glass slippers won you over, our princess coloring pages add ball gowns, castles and a royal tea party to the story shelf, and our Rapunzel coloring pages follow another storybook heroine up her tower and down her famous braid. Another old tale gets a shelf of its own in our gingerbread man coloring pages, where the runaway cookie outruns a whole farmyard before he meets the fox. And when you want the whole magical bookcase in one place, our fantasy coloring pages hub gathers unicorns, dragons and every new arrival first.

How to print

Every page is sized for US Letter and prints on A4 without cropping if you set your printer to "fit to page". Print single-sided so colors do not show through, and use cardstock if you plan to use markers. There are no watermarks and no sign-up, on any page.

Terms of use

Free for personal, classroom and library use. Print as many copies as you need. Please do not re-sell these pages or re-host the file: link to the collection page instead, so the book stays up to date.
